Gray-Lehvinne and Son Acclaimed As Artists of High Rank in Concert Here

Program Given Under Auspices of School Music Department Brilliantly Presented by Noted Woman Violinist and Ladday Gray, Eight-Year-Old Prodigy

BY HALLIE HOUCK
Marion Star Staff Writer

What can be said of an artist who has won the admiration and acclaim of world-famous critics and audiences, who has a personality that is in itself a masterpiece of nature?

Little Gray-Lehvinne gave a solo concert at Central Junior High school last night that was worthy of Carnegie Hall, New York City. After making her it was easy to understand how she has gained a reputation as one of the greatest contemporary violinists.

Sharing a large part of Gray-Lehvinne's applause was her eight-year-old son, Ladday Moore Gray, who played piano compositions of Mozart, Chopin and Bach with a dexterity and facility and charm that was surprising when the reach of his small, chubby hands is considered. Ladday's name has been shortened to Laddie, since he began touring with his parents.

Violin Made in 1675
Gray-Lehvinne opened the program with two wonderful creations of masterpieces. "Adagio Pathetique," Gounod and "Concerto," Opus 33, Vieuxtemps, played on a violin made in 1675 of the wood.

These two numbers and the closing composition, "Fantasie Appassionata," Vieuxtemps were the hardest numbers in her entire program. The sweep of her bow was like that of a man, yet the delicate interpretation of parts of the pieces showed the artistic temperament of a woman. The deep, lingering notes, the high, clear, ringing moments of her violin and her swift, agile and splendid playing held her audience during the entire concert.

Haydn's "Menuet," the closing number in her first group, was played on a violin made in 1715 and used at the time by Mozart.

Before playing her program selections the artist gave short and interesting stories about the numbers or their composers.

Ladday in Costume
Gray-Lehvinne then introduced her son Ladday in the costume in which he won first award in California recently as being the most authentic King picture of the boy Mozart at the same age.

His coat was made of gold and ivory hand-woven cloth, with silk lace breeches, large buckled pumps and a white wig completing the picture. He made his piano debut to last night's audience with a group of Mozart numbers.

As one of his encores he played

Beethoven's "Minuet in G," accompanied on the violin by his mother.

The lamentation of the Hindus and the slow sound of the temple bells were brought out in Gray-Lehvinne's next number, "Hindu Lamentation," Rimsky-Korsakov. The piece was one of a weird and fascinating melody.

A sweet, melodious number, "After Sunset," was played by the artist with the after-glow of a San Francisco sunset and peaceful, sparkling water as an inspiration.

"Zephyr," Hubay, was one of the extraordinary numbers, not from the difficulty of the violin technique, but that it is one of the numbers in which Gray-Lehvinne and her husband-accompanist, James Gray, have succeeded in stunning the violin and piano so perfectly that if the audience is not watching the artists, it is difficult to know which of the instruments is playing. The piece has a bird-like quality that was particularly charming.

An Outstanding Number
One of the most enjoyable of the numbers was "Dance Macabre," Saint-Saens, dean of French composers, played in the original composition. Gray-Lehvinne's story preceding their weird "dance of death," put her audience in the mood for the rattle of the bones of the skeletons come to life on Halloween, their gruesome dance and final return to their graves at the sound of the cock's crowing.

Leading in his ordinary school-boy attire and without the wig worn in the Mozart group, appeared in his second group, the boy is sturdily built and at the same time has a sweetness and charm that is an artistic temperament gives.

His opening piece in this group was a minuet by Bach, played by Ladday when he was a baby of four. Included in his numbers was "Polonaise in A Flat Major," by Chopin. The runs and difficult octaves reaches in this selection are familiar to students of piano, and when played by his child of eight were marvelous.

Plays Own Compositions
Closing this unique concert, Gray-Lehvinne played Smetana's "Bohemian Fantasy," a piece with the haunting sadness and gay abandon of the native country, two songs of her own composition, "My Song of California" and "Heart of My Opal," and Vieuxtemps, "Fantasie Appassionata."

The violinist has composed many poems and set them to music, and several have been dedicated to Ladday. One of them, President Woodrow Wilson dedicated to the National Red Cross.

James Gray, accompanied his wife in all of her numbers, and is himself an accomplished musician. His sympathetic interpretations as an accompanist play a major part in the success of Gray-Lehvinne.

The concert last night was given under the auspices of the music department of the Marion public schools, and proceeds will be used in buying necessary equipment for use in that branch of school work.

Gray-Lehvinne and Ladday, with Mr. Gray accompanying his wife, gave a program for school children at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the junior high school auditorium. The program was especially planned to meet the musical tastes of boys and girls of school age.

heard in the bedroom of the master and mistress of the house who are of course most lovely about the disturbance of their sleeping hours.

Charming doesn't penetrate the imagination of the bird, so it may be time to let nature take its course and permit the pecker to peck a hole in the side of the house.

Stick houses would be impervious to such an attack and the poor bird would give up in despair.

Faded Blossoms

It seems terrible to have to rebask the thing again this season but it's about time that some of Marion's women folks expect four bills on a fresh flower for their winter coats or else unpin the winter stanzas and so flowerless until Apollo and his chariot make a warmer trail across the sky.

Some of the bouquets were once beautiful and in some cases costly accessor "s, but their day it past, and when a penny is faded and old why not let it pass to the kingdom come of flowers?

Round bouquets of flowers, while they fade just as rapidly as the others, never look quite so drooping and dejected as the long, dangling bunches that many of the women are wearing on the backs of coat collars. In some cases the flowers are becoming unwieldy and long "strings" of flowers straggled of leaves at this late season, draggle away from the weary companions.

Welcome the Sun

It's positively cruel how pessimistic some merchants in this city can be. After these terrible weeks of rain, rain, drizzling days, cloudy days and more rain, every one from cobblers to our more upright citizens should welcome a month of anything at least before proceedings are begun to diminish the rain.

Let Monday, the first day the sun has shined for many a 24 hour period, one of Marion's up-town merchants was seen putting up a new awning. Imagine trying to shut out the bright rays of our intimate collector, cum Old Sol, with a strip of canvas the color of dirty mud!

WILLIAMS RECORD TUESDAY MARCH 26-27

'OLD GOLD' CHALLENGES AND WINS IN CIGARETTE 'TEST'

Challenging the statement appearing in the columns of THE RECORD of February 28 that Williams men have a distinct preference for cigarettes as proven by the fact that that brand outsells competitors in local shops, the Old Gold company last Friday afternoon conducted one of its famous "concealed name tests" at Williams. As a result, Williams has joined the growing list of colleges and universities which have given Old Gold a plurality in such a contest for out of the 934 votes cast, the challenging brand received 66 first choices, while two other leading makes could do no more than tie for second place with 59 votes apiece, and a fourth prominent brand received 50 preferences.

To admit no unfairness into the test, each brand of cigarette was denoted by one of five possible numbers, stamped on the black band concealing the name, so that comparison of numbers among those taking the test would have been difficult. The results of the voting, done entirely by number, were checked up by Secley 229, and A. Clark '39, Business Manager and Assistant Business Manager of THE RECORD.

As a result, Old Gold held last Friday

The four leading cigarette brands . . . "masked" to conceal their brand names.

Daily Proverb—"He who has two masters to serve must lie to one of them."

We didn't get it at the time, but we are beginning to understand why James A. Reed refused to seek reelection to the senate.

In other words, the senate committee on agriculture insisted on reporting out a measure it was assured would receive the veto of the president.

The coal guard in charge of the government patrol boat which shot up the Miami river front recently has been requested to resign from the service. Isn't a request like that a bit revolutionary?

A wealthy farmer of seventy-nine residing down near Marietta has been sued for $10,- 000 damages on a charge of having alienated the affections of the sixty-five-year-old wife of one of his neighbors. The possession of wealth is never without its penalty.

The action taken by the senate immigration committee as good as kills all chance of repelling, or suspending for a time, the operation of the national origins immigration act, the unpopularity of which is steadily growing. Why a senate anyway?

"Why not reach for a Bible," asks the Rev. Russell M. Brougher, "instead of a smoke?" The probable reason is that no publisher has yet produced a Bible possessed of the smoking qualities of the symphony leaves and other substitutes for tobacco offered the smoker on the market today.

Four armed men held up a fashionable gambling-house in a suburb of Toronto, Canada, and robbed the five heavy winners of $61,000. That must have been what the local leather-apron crowd probably would refer to as a somewhat wild game.

A Canadian farmer, who struck iron gold while digging a post hole up in Ontario, has been given $60,000 in cash for his mining interests and is to receive a large share of any and all profits realized. It's our guess that there's going to be an epidemic of post hole digging up that way.

Naturally, the fact that the house farm relief bill found favor with that body, the president, the press and the great majority of the people, was enough to prejudice the senate against it and cause it to get as far away from the house bill as possible in its own bill.

National Prohibition Commissioner Doran's present investigation of the corn sugar production industry, which the commissioner holds supplies the basis for ninety-five per cent.
of all the whisky consumed in the United States, has caused a corn sugar concern at Decatur, Illinois, employing 1,000 men, to close its plant, the management not caring to chance a fine of $10,000 and five years in prison. The new tooth given prohibition enforcement by the Jones law apparently are working efficiently.

Two Million Die in One Province.

Simply appalling are the conditions in the Chinese province of Kansu, where the horrors of war have been supplemented by those of earthquakes, droughts, floods and famine and reduced the population from 9,000,000 to 7,000,000.

The inhabitants who have survived thus far have existed in large part for many months on straw, dried leaves, cotton seed, hark and weeds. Grain brings $50 a bushel and there is no hope of adequate relief until the June harvest, and very little for more than partial relief at that time owing to the inability of the inhabitants to secure seed.

The central government has issued famine relief bonds to the amount of $50,000,000 and is urging those of means throughout the land to buy, but up to the middle of the present month but $625,000 had been thus raised.

History shows that there have been 216 great disasters in China since 636 A. D., but that the present is the greatest yet experienced in that land over a territory so comparatively limited, for Kansu, despite its population of 9,000,000 at the beginning of 1925 is but one of the many provinces of China and small by comparison with many of them.

China has suffered many times her fair share of disasters, as we have stated, but in spite of that her population has continued to grow century by century. The chances are that she will recover from the effects of the civil war by which she has been torn for a number of years and the calamities she has suffered at the hands of Nature. This province of Kansu may stage a come-back, but no matter what the fate of China may be, good or bad, the communists, both native and Russian, have an awful charge to which to answer, for their activities brought on the war which has multiplied the horrors caused by the forces of nature.

Lighting the Up-Town District.

It is to be regretted that the city council and the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Electric company have not as yet been able to get together in the matter of the lighting of the sections of Main and Center streets which are to be reconditioned the coming summer. The street lights along the newly-improved section of west Center street are so beautiful and have done so much to improve the appearance of that street both by night and day that it would be a serious artistic as well as utilitarian mistake not to continue the same system on Main street from Mill to Columbia and on Center from Oak to Baker, as has been planned.

The west Center street lights are so really superior to the general run of street lamps that any less artistic system which might be adopted would be bound to appear at a disadvantage by comparison, which would be highly unfair to the merchants in the up-town business section. Without regard to what is just, and considering the matter on a purely financial basis, it would not be fair to uptown property-owners and their tenants to light the streets to be improved less efficiently and artistically than west Center street for, considered by the appraised value of the foot frontage, the up-town business section bears the heaviest tax burden borne by any section of the municipality.

We do not know why the Electric company should ask more for service up-town than it does on the West Side, but we have heard it stated that it figured west Center street too low. Even if such is the case, it should do its utmost to meet the council half way, for it would reap just as much from a splendidly-lighted up-town business section as would any other corporation with a big local investment, for what in an advertising way helps a part of the city, naturally helps the city as a whole.

While we never expect a foreign-capital corporation to go in strongly for philanthropy, we do expect such a corporation to do its utmost to court the good will of a community it serves, for that is nothing more than good business. There was a time when corporations would not subscribe to this view, but that is a thing of the past. Today all corporations realize that the more pleasant their relations with a community, the greater will be the measure of profit to result to them.
We feel that this should be kept in mind in all negotiations between service corporations and the city, not only in the present case, but at all times, and we feel that the city should always be ready and willing to meet corporations half way.

In any event, the up-town business section should not be denied a lighting system less attractive than that extending out to the West Side, but a contribution of that system would make a symmetrical whole and enhance in effectiveness any combination of systems possible.

The fact that a woman resident has sued the city for $25,000, charging that she was injured as a result of being struck by a bicycle being ridden on the sidewalk by a messenger boy, naturally arouses wonder when, if ever, the authorities have seen fit to enforce the ordinance against riding bicycles on the sidewalks since the enactment of the original measure back in 1898, or thereabout.

The first day of the London board of trade investigation into the sinking of the Vestris, last November, developed the fact that that vessel sailed from New York loaded eight hundred above her load line; that is, she was eight hundred tons in the water by reason of her load when she should have been. Can it be possible that anything else will be dug up to augment the number of agencies to make certain her fate?

Over in France there is an apparent inclination to censure Germany for her failure to agree to the terms of settlement proffered by the allies. Why would it not be a good scheme for France to ratify the terms of settlement her representative arranged with the United States and thus set Germany a good example?

Statistics show that the consumption of whisky was twenty per cent. less in Great Britain in 1925 than the year before; that there was 3.75 per cent. decline in the consumption of whisky and 1.50 per cent. in the drinking of beer. However, as the per capita expenditure over there for drink last year was $22 and the total drink bill almost $1,- 500,000,000, there is very little likelihood that Britain may soon be mistaken for a desert.

Any one questioning the fact that the recent speculative orgy in Wall street had a bad effect on legitimate security transactions need but to recall the ninety-eight and small fraction bonds were bringing a week or such a matter ago and compare them with the steadily-rising figures the same classes of bonds are commanding, now that the orgy seemingly is over.

Two auto loads of gangsters, a day or two ago, fought a gun battle from their machines while moving at a speed of seventy miles an hour through the streets of Philadelphia.
How times have changed! It was not so many years ago that Philadelphia was known alike as the Quaker City, the City of Brotherly Love, and Sleepyville.

Judging by reports radiated from the Leviathan, there has not been the wild demand for booze by her passengers on her present westward trip the management anticipates, the outlook being that far more liquor will have to be thrown overboard before reaching the twelve-mile limit than will be consumed on the trip over. Coming right down to brass tacks, there is not anything like the demand by travelers for liquor which has been fattened it is the rarely exceptional traveler who goes aboard for the purpose of becoming a sponge.

Worry Causes Insomnia.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

One of the most trying of human experiences is the inability to sleep. Even a murderer will give himself up if he can not sleep. Loss of sleep has driven men and women to suicide. It has made them mad.

The doctors call sleeplessness "insomnia." It is regarded as an important factor in many of the diseases of the body. Insomnia is looked upon as a serious ailment.

There are many causes for sleepless nights. And news, fright, shock from any cause, may so disturb the nervous system that sleep is out of the question. When the acute agony subsides gentle sleep will return.

A more serious form of insomnia is that which comes from worry. "Worry killed a cat," the old saying goes. But it isn't the cat alone that suffers. Many a man and many a woman has tossed on beds of worry, utterly unable to sleep.
The affairs of the day have become the worries of the night.

Things can be so black about 3 o'clock in the morning! At that hour life seems indeed hopeless!

Sometimes it is difficult to determine whether worry is the cause of illness or whether illness is the cause of the worry. But there can be no doubt that they are twins. Sluggish twins at that.
They are chained together. Insomnia is a sure sign of illness, or that you will be ill unless relief comes.

There are serious ailments of the brain and nervous system that have less of sleep among the prominent symptoms. In that form of insomnia we are not interested today. I want to speak about the simpler and more common types.

Improper diet and irregular habits are sleep destroying. Constipation is capable of generating poisons that have an evil effect upon the nervous system.

It is safe to say that seven persons out of ten who suffer from insomnia are the victims of constipation. Wrong eating habits cause the constipation and then sleeplessness is added to the chain of symptoms.

Anything that disturbs the heart action may destroy sleep. Drugs, excessive smoking, stimulants of all sorts—in these are other causes for insomnia.

Speaking of drugs, let me beg of you never to resort to them. They should never be taken except on the advice of a physician. If you can't sleep you are sorely tempted to "take something." Many a life has been ruined by habitual resort to sleep producing drugs. Sleeping powders, sleeping pills, sleeping drops—all these are dangerous. They lead to drug addiction and to conditions far worse than insomnia.

A tepid bath continued for a quarter of an hour or more will help. A glassful of hot milk, or a glassful of hot water, or a hot water-bag for the feet—try them before thinking of drugs.

Editorial Opinion.

A VIGILANT PRESIDENT.

President Hoover has made it plain that he does not intend to be merely a patient looker-on while congress is at work. His bold and explicit statement last week of dissatisfaction with some of the plans of the farm reformers left them, like the blacksmith in "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," considerably shocked up. They had comfortably taken it for granted that Mr. Hoover would keep his hand off, so that their surprise was the greater when he laid it on, and laid it on heavily. It is now evident that when he refused to help congress by giving it a farm bill of his own, it did not mean that he would not say what he thought of other bills and other plans when he saw them.
This is not dictating to congress. It is only describing and defining measures introduced or proposed. This Mr. Hoover has done with devastating effect in his letter to Senator McNary, made public this morning, exposing the fallacies and absurdities of the debenture plan.

It may not be possible for all political legislators to follow the president when he traces a connection between the farm bill which congress ought to pass and the "mandate" given it by the Republican platform and the national election last November. It is true that the party platform by refusing to approve the debenture plan appeared to condemn it. But it said nothing about the "debenture" plan, for that blessed and ambiguous word had not then emerged. Besides, the platform generalities about farm relief were so glittering that every man interpreted them according to his own taste and fancy. This is one reason, no doubt, why there should still be that division of opinion among farmer organizations which the president deplored and warned against in his statement last week.

His main difficulty, it is clear, he expects to encounter in the senate. Amendments to the bill as reported to the house will doubtless be offered by representatives of the contrary mind, but none of them making any substantial change will be adopted. Yet every western senator will be ready to pull out of his hat a perfect scheme of farm relief. If farmers and farm organizations are not able to sink their differences, much less will be their professional spokesmen in the senate. There is the real threat of divided councils. It is against them that Mr. Hoover has issued his vigorous warning in advance.—New York Times, April 22.

TIME'S MONUMENTS.

According to reliable British journals, a national disgrace has been averted through the preservation of Stonehenge from the materialistic iconoclasm of an unemotional progress.

The world will rejoice that this is so—at least, that part of the world which is wedded to the solid fetiches which blind the eyes to every beauty not rainbowed by the glitter of gold and characterized by the luminance of utilitarian achievement.

Our own Niagara falls has been in grave danger and we can realize the outrage of unbridled British sentiment when Stonehenge became threatened by interests more interested in the problems of dividends than in the processes and traditions of history.

But the great ancient temple has been saved from the hands of the spoilers. The gray ghosts of Druid priests and gods have been saved. A "National Trust" has raised the money required to stay this latest trend toward "development."

But, as the Manchester Guardian declares, everywhere beauty and distinction are threatened, and sapiently and courageously: "Iconoclasm does not necessarily involve the destruction of the country-side. Properly-planned arterial roads should relieve the traffic through villages and leave the beauty on either side of them untouched. We may take a hint from France, and instead of covering England with streets, make broad avenues of trees between which the motorist may speed and behind which the pedestrian may still walk in safety and comfort."

All of which is just as applicable in America as it is in England, and it is as true in America as it is true in England or any other country, that proper action in connection with such enterprise will be taken wherever public opinion is alive to the need.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

one dollar a quart, and the home product about fifty cents per quart.—Florida Times-Union.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

NEW YORK, April 24—Few realistic writers or playwrights have caught the drama of the slum tenement in New York. The nearest perhaps was the play, "Street Scene," this season, but even this sacrificed much actual realism for a stage theatricalism it seemed to think necessary.

Most of the five-like tenements sweep all chords of emotion in a single day—birth, death, suicide, murder, marriage, robbery and so on. Every day there are moments of high excitement and every night some episode becomes startlingly vivid. And through it all is the bright-eyed charm always found among the worthies and a tenuous humility that is sublime.

Mass existence is something that can not be seen from the sidewalk or elevated train window. It coils deep in the tiny flats that honeycomb the gloowering buildings where fire escapes are criss-crossed with wet wash and every hallway is a love grove or confessional.

The slum tenement is a city within a during winter. Only the children, literally sewed in their clothing, and men who must go forth to earn the daily bread, are seen. Women sometimes do not go beyond the front door vestibule until the first chirp of the robin.

New York has done much to uproot its terrible tenements and supplant them with structures that offer livable quarters, but the shabby ramshackle warrens still exist. Headlines frequently bring them to public attention with "Flames Sweep Like Wildfire Through Tenements."

The tenement is not confined to the lower East Side. There are many on Ninth and Tenth avenues and along the water front, and despite their squalor and wretchedness many remarkably talented men and women have sprung from the dingy depths—like lilacs in the bog.

There is no place where the call of misery and woe receives such responsive sympathy as in the slums. The sympathetic have no money or other worldly goods to offer, but of their time and labor they give freely and gladly—and to the utmost.

Nothing is quite so appealing as the engagingly shy "little mother" of the tenement.
She takes full responsibility for the welfare of her younger brothers and sisters—washes, feeds, clothes and otherwise gives them the attention of a grown mother. As a rule, when she approaches womanhood her burdens have become so heavy she must continue the inferior life of sacrifice.

Sociologists find girls are not so much affected by slum environment as boys. A big percentage reach womanhood as "good girls," and many have become leading educators and prominent executives in the business world. The boy often falls about the malign influence of the pool hall or candy store and is a criminal before he is in long trousers.

The famous flea circus on west Forty-Second street is now in the fifth year of its remarkable run, and still attracts patronage.
Its heaviest audiences are recruited from the theaters in the same block. It is one of the stunts for the stunted shrills and emcee wraps to drop in and wait until the traffic tides abate.

Sixth avenue and Forty-second street form four of the busiest corners, yet there is difficulty keeping stores rented. Sometimes they are untenanted for months.

At a Carnegie Hall concert the other evening the orchestra leader silenced his music and asked the audience for quiet.
There have been times when many of us asked to join the audience in a similar request of the orchestra.

One of those Russian cafes, hiding away in a crepuscular cellar in midtown, and featuring the Volga boat song and a high-booted sitting-down dancer, is supposed to have a doorman who was once a grand duke.
He was preening his beard with a comb before a mirror in the entrance way the other night.

"Atta boy!" called out an arriving patron.
"Duke it up!"

The Silent Drama.

BY GARRETT P. SERVIS.

One person out of every four in the United States is suffering from hearing defects of some sort. That is the statement of Dr.
Edward B. Dench, otologist. I have at hand in these articles that deafness was alarming-increasing, but that was a non-professional opinion, based only on amateur observation.
Dr. Dench's statement is authoritative, made before a committee which is assisting the American Otological society to obtain immediately half a million dollars for the study of diseases and affections of the ear in the hope of discovering methods of dealing with chronic progressive deafness.

Now, this question finds an intimate connection with the social interests and the personal well-being of millions of people throughout the threatened transformation of the "talkie" drama into a "talkie" drama. The movies with their silent "titles" taking the place of spoken conversation have been improved until millions of good people from every region of society have become their patrons.
Finding in them not a substitute for the regular stage drama so much as a new, completely modern form of dramatic entertainment, capable by its peculiar powers of producing effects utterly inaccessible to the ablest stage management and introducing to the eye a mimic world of motion and color partaking of the magic of an Arabian Night's dream.

Without necessary competition or conflict with the established drama of stage, speaking actors, this novel form of entertainment, applied science's splendid gift to the amusement world—has rendered it possible to bring before great audiences, with the vivac-ity of actual life, romantic stories, scenes of exciting adventure, actual incidents of every day life in all parts of the world, and to reproduce the greatest and most significant events of past history by sea and by land realistically that the spectator has seemed to become a contemporary witness of the scenes before him.

Now, in all this the deaf and the hard-of-hearing have taken their share of enjoyment on an even footing with those blessed with perfect hearing.

The printed titles have not only served well in place of audible conversation, but they have in some instances been more effective in conveying the significance of certain actions and actions than living voices could have been, surely so if the voices were indefinitely heard. The printed title can sometimes convey to the audience a suggestion of an idea that would not be suitable for utterance by the living actors on the stage. It is a kind of Greek chorus, interpreting scenes for the spectator.

I do not wish to oppose the "talkies" in themselves. What I wish is to utter a protest, which I perceive from the action taken by various associations must find a wide approval, against the abolition of the silent movies. Let us have both if necessary, and even both combined if no better can be done. But I appeal to the managers and the producers in behalf of the one quarter of a million of citizens whose hearing is imperfect. Their dollars are genuine, their appreciation of dramatic excellence is as firm as anybody's, and they have perhaps more need than others whose ears are acute for the rest, recreation and enlightenment of the silent drama of the animated screen.

tomb of Columbus in Havana, in Seville,

"I believe I speak with thoughtful now, will be carried by combination heavier-than-air and lighter-than-air craft." The first-named class, the airplanes, will fly the air routes of the country, accompanying to 100 passengers, with accommodation equal to or surpassing those now found on railway Pullmans. Well-lighted, roomy, sufficient number of modern airports, air-beacons, gyroscopic controls and automatic devices for landing and taking off will in-measurably to the safety of air travel.

"Lighter-than-air craft"—the dirigibles will carry passengers, mail and freight

SCHOOLS ARRANGE
ARBOR DAY PLANS

General Observance in City and County Planned for Friday

home rooms. Teachers at Oakland Heights building are planning an assembly for Friday morning, at which time talks will be given on forest preservation, and the reasons for Arbor day.

Will Plant Tree

Olney Avenue school will plant a tree Friday afternoon, and the ceremony will be preceded by a program by the children of the building. A meeting of the Olney Avenue Community club will be held later on in the afternoon.

According to custom, English teachers at West Street school will discuss the subject of forest and flower preservation in their various classes, Friday morning and afternoon.

Two or three trees will be planted on the grounds Friday morning, according to the program scheduled by the Silver Street school. Lessons on nature study will be conducted in individual rooms, following the dedication services of the trees.

At St. Mary's Parochial school, English teachers in the various grades will have charge of the programs which will be given in all rooms.

The talks in all schools on this day will deal generally with the customs followed on Arbor day, the relation of plant and animal and bird life to trees, and the time and place that the idea originated.

According to a session in the Old statutes, it is the duty of the state commissioner of common schools to issue an annual manual for Arbor day exercises, as soon as possible after the governor has set apart a day as prescribed by the act of March 3, 1902.

The phrase in the laws of Ohio not only deals with forest conservation, but also advocates the protection of birds and animals. The observance of Arbor day and Bird day has been recognized in Ohio ever since the spring of the passing of the Arbor day act in 1892.

Few men can be badly enough gentled to make them behave themselves for a whole lifetime.

RUMOR PRINCE AND FILM STAR TO WED

Hollywood Links Lily Damita with Louis Ferdinand of Germany

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 24—A sensational rumor laundried another report was breaking today, associating in a possible romance the names of Lily Damita, French film beauty, and Prince Louis Ferdinand, 21-year-old grandson of the former German kaiser.

Miss Damita has confessed that a romance between her and Prince Louis has blossomed.

"Yes," she replied to a question, "you might say there is a romance."

Traveling throughout as Dr. Louis Ferdinand, the youthful prince came across the continent to Los Angeles and Hollywood before being recognized. He has been here more than two days and a great deal of his time has been spent in the company of the French star.

While Miss Damita admitted the romance and even said that the prince has already proposed marriage, her asserted suitor would concede no more than that he and the actress are very good friends.

"I like her very much," the prince said, "however, I am not contemplating marriage at present."

AMATEUR FIGHT TOURNEY PLANNED

NORTH CENTRAL OHIO FIGHTERS INVITED TO PARTICIPATE IN SHOW

Eagles Will Sponsor Tourney Scheduled To Get Under Way May 13

BY KARL R. McELROY
Sports Editor, The Star

MARION will become the center of amateur boxing in north central Ohio with the announcement of the Eagles lodge here that it would sponsor a series of amateur boxing shows the first to be presented in the local ring on May 13.

Plans for the amateur show have not been fully completed but will be announced within the next week. The affair, expected to draw over 100 entries in the various classes, will be known as the North Central Ohio Amateur Boxing tournament with invitations extended to young fighters in Wyandot, Crawford, Morrow, Delaware, Hardin, Union and Marion counties.

Card Monday

Initial plans for the tournament were announced shortly after the card for the next Eagles fight show here Monday night had been completed. Monday night's affair will consist of 22 rounds of boxing featuring Jack Keller of Toledo and Frankie Kaeth of Cleveland in the main go. Lee Meredith of Toledo and Jack Heger of Cleveland will go eight rounds in the semi-final.

The amateur tournament will be an elimination affair with the bouts extending over a period of several weeks, depending on the number of entries. Each bout will last three rounds, under amateur rulings, and in case of a draw a fourth will be fought.

To Award Prizes

Prizes, it is planned, will be awarded to the winners along with gold and bronze medals. The proceeds will be used by the Eagles lodge for charity purposes.

An amateur, according to the promoters, is a fighter who has not received money for any ring appearances. Every effort will be made to keep out the usual "ham and eggs" that usually flood amateur tournaments.

Boxing Weight

The regular classification of fighters will be used in fixing the various divisions. The weights are as follows: Flyweight, 112 pounds; bantamweight, 126 pounds; featherweight, 140 pounds; lightweight, 154 pounds; junior welterweight, 168 pounds; welterweight, 182 pounds; middleweight, 196 pounds; light heavyweight, 210 pounds.

Complete details on the tournament can be obtained from the Eagles lodge or Roy Abel at the Marion Billiard Parlor.

Cleveland Defeats Chisox To Lead League

McGraw Hornswoggled Again as O'Doul Goes Hot; Leads National In Batting

JOHN JOSEPH MCGRAW, who thought Eddie Roush and Helio Groh twice before he was convinced that they were stars, today was wondering if he had erred again in assessing the value of Ledy O'Doul as a ball player.

O'Doul was shanghaied from the Giants to the Phillies in exchange for Fred Leach because he was alleged to have been more interested in the average prices of stocks and bonds than in his own batting average. Leach has yet to earn a berth as a New York regular this year while O'Doul is leading the National league in batting and has smacked three home runs, all against the Giants.

THE latest indication that McGraw has been hornswoggled again came yesterday when O'Doul collected three hits, including a home run, at the expense of Larry Benton, New York mound ace. The Phils won 3 to 1, practically ruining the Giants' home opening before 10,000 fans. Weeping Wilbourn walked 10 men but bore down so hard in the pinches that 20 Giants were stranded on the pinks. Turney, the old war horse who is substituting for Tommy Chisox, broke up the game with a triple in the eleventh.

Other under dogs also had their day. The Red Sox, opening at home, did themselves proud by trouncing the Yankees, 4 to 2. Morris outpitched Phogras and Helmsch.

THE magic spell of the Cubs' pitchers was broken after 28 innings. The Cardinals wrecked Sheriff Blake for three runs in the third inning and tallied five more in the eighth, winning 9 to 0.

The Cubs now have only one catcher, Angley, a rookie, as Gonzalez and Greco were injured yesterday and Gabby Hartnett is out with a lame arm.

The home opening of the Athletics was ruined when they lost out to Washington in the eleventh, 4 to 3.

LU BLUM of the Browns tied Charles Jamieson of Cleveland for the batting leadership of the league by walking two home runs as St. Louis swamped Detroit, 11 to 5.

It took two old timers, Dave Vance and Dave Bancroft, to give the Brooklyn Robins their first win of the season. Davey did some sweet pitching and Banny knocked in the run that enabled Brooklyn to win in the eleventh, 3 to 2.

MIAMI, OHIO WESLEYAN TO PLAY 2 GAMES MAY 4

DELAWARE, April, 24—Double-headers are rare in college baseball but Ohio Wesleyan and Miami alums are to try this innovation here this season. Coach George Staten of the Bishops announced today.

Miami and Ohio Wesleyan were rained out of their game at Oxford Saturday so two games will be played when the Big Red comes to Delaware May 4. The first game will be played at 10 o'clock in the morning and the second at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

BUCKS WIN SECOND FROM GOPHERS, 6-5

Ohio State Nine Gets 14 Hits To Chalk Up Victory

COLUMBUS, April 24—Ohio State's "re-camped" baseball team returned to the practice grid again today, having made a clean sweep of the series with Minnesota here, Monday and yesterday. Knocking out 11 hits and running the bases to perfection, along with the ragged fielding of the Gophers, the Buckeyes took the second game yesterday, 6 to 5.

Wesley Foster, declared to be one of the few stars in three major sports, and all in his sophomore year, in four trips to the platter yesterday, connected with three hits and as many runs.

Art Reed, young sophomore southpaw, started on the mound for the Bucks, with Carlbloom doing the hurling for the visitors. Both were sent out, however, when things began to get hot. Regulein, who relieved Carlbloom in the sixth, was charged with the defeat. Bill, who took the reins from Reed, was credited with the win.

MILLER AND FERRELL ALLOW 7 BINGLES AS TRIBE WINS, 7-5

Ohioans Tie Score in Seventh; Winning Run Scored in Ninth

WALT MILLER and Wesley Ferrell held the White Sox to seven bingles in the second game of the Cleveland-Chicago series yesterday at Duns field and once more the tribe is alone at the top of the American league standings. Yesterday's 7-5 victory was the fourth win for the Indians out of six starts. St. Louis is in second place with five wins and three losses.

It was Miller's first appearance of the year and the former Ohio State hurler pitched some beautiful ball until he was taken out for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning. The young Mr. Ferrell entered the pasture at this point and held the Sox to one bingle single and no runs during his stay on the mound. Chaschmitt was late yesterday.

The Sox opened the scoring when Miller walked. Kerr hit into a twin killing, Chisox doubled off the screen and Reynolds singled to center.

The tribe failed to do anything at all to Grady Adams, the Arkansas butcher boy, until the fourth frame when two singles and an error counted two runs. The winning run came in the last inning when Ferrell doubled off the right field screen and, after Tavenor had forced Ferrell, Lund singled putting Tavenor on third. The Earl of Averill, who had previously tripled with two on, was given an intentional pass and Joe Sewell scored Tavenor with a long sacrifice fly to Reynolds in left field.

Thursday the Cincinnati Reds will be facing the Cards in the second game of their series at St. Louis and Cleveland will be helping Bucky Harris' Tigers open their home season at Detroit. George Uhle will probably face the tribe in Thursday's game if he does not pitch the opener today.

FARMER-OWNED ELEVATOR FIGURES

Ohio State Professor Says Their Patronage Dividends Are Increasing

COLUMBUS, April 24—Farmer-owned elevators in Ohio are distributed a steadily-increasing volume of patronage dividends in the form of patronage dividends to the customers.

"These elevators were established to develop more efficient handling machinery through which to buy and sell," says H. A. Wallace, professor of rural economics at Ohio State university here. "Many of these elevators limit the dividends to 4 or 5 per cent. Six per cent is a common figure, and some pay more."

Analysis of the accounts of 10 Ohio farmer-owned elevators, now in the use of the rural economics department and compiled by an auditor of the department, shows that over the last eight consecutive years in the case of these enterprises, the average dividend has been 4.5 per cent.

"Gee, dad, but it's fun when you play with me. Wish you'd do this all the time."

"Well, son, I guess I'll be acting more human from now on, since I've got rid of my grouchy old feet. These new Arch Preserver Shoes make me feel like a kid again."

AGENTS
Singer & Washburn

Wallace, "averaged 25 per cent per year of net earnings on capital stock; 2000 of them paid over 6 per cent per year on capital stock; the remainder of the earnings went in part to surplus, and usually in larger part to patronage dividends which advanced the price of grain sold by the farmers, or reduced the cost of supplies purchased."

"Starting, as nearly all of them did, undercapitalized by 25 to 60 per cent, most of them suffered losses in 1920 and 1921 which reduced the already limited capital. When conditions began to improve in 1922, the first use which had to be made of earnings was to wipe out a deficit; if one existed, or to pay off the indebtedness resulting from a start with insufficient capital. Then limited dividends on the stock began to be paid; next, patronage dividends began to be set up to the credit of patrons, although the stockholders often voted to allow the company use of the money until most of the indebtedness was paid. Several companies, fortunate in capitalization and fortunate or skillful in avoidance of loss in 1920, have paid patronage dividends."

"The Delaware elevator in the past seven years has handled nearly two million dollars worth of business, increased its surplus to more than 50 per cent of stock, and has paid dividends to its stockholders of an average of 4 per cent on their stock, and 2 to 6 1/2 per cent on their patronage, with an average of over 4 per cent on patronage. The West Salem elevator in 10 years had net earnings of $45,300 of which $14,000 is retained in surplus, $10,500 has been paid to shareholders in stock dividends, and over $17,000 has been paid in dividends on patronage, much of it to non-stockholders."

PLOWING MUST VARY WITH SEASON, CLAIM

First Characteristic Is Good Granulation, Says Extension Specialist

COLUMBUS, April 24—Plowing which was good plowing last fall isn't necessarily good plowing this spring, says L. A. Silver, extension specialist in agricultural engineering with the Ohio State university here.

"The first characteristic of good plowing is good granulation. The degree of granulation, however, will vary with fall and spring plowing," says Silver. "Plowing which will be followed relatively soon by seedling, should be pulverized to a maximum degree of granulation. For plowing which is to stand for some length of time a coarser degree of granulation is recommended, especially where soils are heavy. If the soil turns over in large clods and the trash is exposed to view, some subsequent tillage operation may be necessary to further pulverize the soil and bury the trash."

"The second characteristic of good plowing is the complete covering and mixing of trash. No trash of any sort should appear between the furrow slices. By the complete covering of trash, the insect population will be greatly decreased, since weeds and other debris which lie on the surface offer the best possible protection for these pests. Proper set of the plow must be maintained to get this result, and accessory devices such as the jointer, rolling coupler, wires, or chains, are a great help."

MAY BE SUCCESSOR

Gen. Maxime Weygand, said to have been right-hand man of late Marshal Foch, and on whose shoulders the mantle of the departed war leader will probably fall. The General's genius as a military leader has long been known and the additional fact, just revealed, of the intimacy he enjoyed with the Marshal will probably be the deciding factor in his appointment as successor.

The Arithmetic of PACKARD OWNERSHIP

IT IS just elementary arithmetic that buying two cars each lasting only half as long as one costing twice as much, results in the same expenditure of money in the same length of time.

Elementary arithmetic, yes. And yet if every man and woman who really wants to drive a Packard Eight were to sit down and actually figure the thing out in terms of their own car costs—the Packard factory would have to be multiplied in capacity every year.

For there are hundreds of thousands of motorists who are driving cheaper cars because they believe they cannot afford Packard ownership. They think the cheaper cars are cheaper to own!

Perhaps you are one of those thousands. If you are, just follow through our reasoning. Tens of thousands of owners of cars costing down to ten or twelve hundred dollars have done so. And then become the proud owners of Packard cars.

The Eight Costs—

There are eight items of cost in owning any car and first cost is not one of them. Compare each of these costs, item by item as between your present car and a Packard Standard Eight. You will find:

That the license cost is little if any more, and only a few dollars in any case.

That insurance may be slightly more due to the greater value of the Packard. But this applies principally to fire and theft coverage—a very small sum annually.

That garage cost is the same.

That the three operating items—gas, oil and tires—show no advantage for either car. The Packard Standard Eight gives 10 to 12 miles or more to the gallon of gasoline; 1,000 or more miles to the gallon of oil; 15,000 to 20,000 or more miles to the set of tires. What "half-price" car does better?

That Packard repairs cost less. This is due, first, to the simplicity of Packard design which makes repair work quick and easy; second, to Packard quality which requires less frequent repair, and, third, to Packard's automatic chassis and motor lubrication which protect factory precision.

That depreciation on a Packard costs no more and quite likely less than you are now paying.

Those are the eight costs—and the only costs to consider—in owning a motor car.

Unless You Are Very Unusual

You may agree readily with all of the above statements except the last—the really important one, about depreciation. And yet, unless you are very unusual, the fact that Packard depreciation will cost you no more than your present car costs you, is absolutely true. For you will keep a Packard Eight twice as long!

The Packard is a long-lived car. It is designed and built to give many years of first-class transportation. You are not tempted, either by lowered service from your Packard or by radical changes in new models, to turn your Packard Eight in after 20 months or so. You will keep it because you want to keep it. And in doing so you will enjoy the car you really want, at no greater expense than that to which you are now accustomed.

May we go further into your individual case using actual figures? We will be glad to do so without obligation. And a Packard Eight will be at your door at any hour you name. Just phone.

CINCINNATI RULE IN STATE HIT BY DAVEY

Recent Candidate for Governor Assails "Gang" in Control of Ohio

NEWARK, April 21.—Martin L. Davey of Kent, defeated Democrat candidate for governor in the 1928 election, today had cause for highballed silence when he entered at the time of his defeat, to declare that "the corrupt political gang of Cincinnati" has "taken control of the state government."

In a speech here last night, the man who on Jan. 4 climbed the inaugural platform and shaking hands with Governor Cooper, declared "congratulations, old man," attacked the Republican rule in Ohio and particularly named his darts of oratory at the director of commerce in the chief executive cabinet.

Davey did not mention Ed Starr by name but charged that the commerce director is the representative of the Cincinnati gang in the cabinet.

At the same time Davey declared that he was not a candidate for governor at the next election but he qualified the statement by saying he might change his mind.

5-3 Naval Ratio Must Stand, Administration Say

ST REACTION TO PROPOSAL PLEASANT
Recommendation of Gibson's speech General on Both Sides of Atlantic HARD WORK AHEAD
Cultures of Applying Formula of "Relative Needs" Admitted Enormous

LONDON April 24—Foreign secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain speaking for the British government, declared in the house commons this afternoon that after approving America's demand for a reduction of navies of American naval parity with Great Britain.

Administration officials have tried to emphasize these points today while the critics were saying that the burden of commensurate messages from abroad, where the first reaction to the American proposals appears to have been "no-happy" as one official expressed it.
It may be that later on when the experts and technicians start digging around the mechanism of the matter the next flush of enthusiasm will be succeeded by the pale of doubt and controversy. But for the time being commendation of Ambassador Gibson's bold speech is general on both sides of the Atlantic.
The difficulties of applying a formula of relative needs to the naval armament of the United States and Great Britain admitted are enormous. It will take months, it not years, of patient and painstaking endeavor to arrive at any blanket formula capable of covering both American and British needs.

Commission in Geneva by Hugh Gibson were communicated today by Lord Cusheund, chief of the British delegation.
Lord Cusheund was given a free hand and it was suggested that he continue information conversations with Mr. Gibson for a further exchange of views upon the question of cutting down the big navies of the world.
These conversations it is expected may decide the next step in this new campaign for sea disarmament.
The Japanese delegation at Geneva may join the private conversations.
British government circles do not anticipate any sudden or spectacular development. It is believed that the negotiations will move slowly in order to pave the way carefully for any new disarmament conference that may be summoned.

Popular Numbers Make THURSDAY RADIO OFFERING Up Program of Music

BY MAC L. ROY
A program composed entirely of popular numbers to be presented by Oliver Smith, tenor, and Sonora Vale, the orchestra, will be the offering of the 10 o'clock hour in their broadcast at 10 o'clock Thursday night over stations of the Columbia Broadcasting system.
This broadcast has been moved forward a half hour to permit another program from Washington to go on the air.
The orchestra will open the program with the Dance of the Paper Dolls, and in the course of the evening there will be heard in two other selections the first tango, Fate and the second, a late hit, I'm Crazy for You.
Oliver Smith, the well-known radio and concert tenor, with two solo artists, will sing songs for me the theme melody of The Lady of the Pavements, and an outstanding tune from Vanities, known as Once in a Lifetime.
The male trio will be heard in The Sweet as Apple Cider, a popular song of many years back and one that was a special check for all collectors in its time. The trio will also sing If You Don't Love Me which with a special arrangement of the Birth of the Blues by the Marjorie orchestra will complete the program.

Exclusive Features Found Only in DIRECT ACTION GAS RANGES

The famous "Elastic Oven" of a Direct Action Gas Range permits of "stretching" when extra space is needed. This is accomplished by pulling out the section or division between the oven and broiler. (See illustration.) This enlarges the oven by converting the broiler into the upper part of the baking oven. An exclusive feature women appreciate.

The term Direct Action means that the burner is in the oven thus doing away with the need of pre-heating, as the heat acts directly on the cooking or baking. This constitutes a big saving in time and gas.

A Polishing Wax that does its own Cleaning

Here is a floor and furniture wax that not only leaves surfaces shining but cleanly shining. Hoover Polishing Wax doesn't ask any preliminary cleaning; it does its own cleansing as it goes, putting its bright, hard luster on a surface that is freshly, thoroughly spick-and-span.

And such a finish as it does give! Not an over shiny finish, not a dull and sticky one. Just a rich, lustrous polish that is so smooth and hard, so free from oiliness or stickiness that dust simply won't cling to it.

HOOVER POLISHING WAX

is wonderfully easy to use. And marvelously speedy both in its application and in its polishing. It is liquid—so it goes far. It clings tightly to the surface on which it is used—so it can be spread thin. It dries immediately—so it can be polished without delay. And it polishes readily—so it needs no vigorous rubbing, but just a light going over, with a cloth or the polishing attachment of your electric cleaner.

It is remarkably good for floors—doesn't invite dirt and isn't slippery. It is fine for furniture—protects the beauty of the finish and leaves no bluish cast or bloom. And it is excellent for motor cars—makes their finish easier to keep clean, for it is not affected by gasoline or oil or water. It is a particularly desirable finish for windowsills or other wood surfaces exposed to the weather, because it is waterproof; and an ideal finish for linoleum, because it makes unnecessary the use of soap—is readily cleansed with clear water. It is so easy to apply, so quick to dry, so ready to polish to brightness, that it is only a matter of a few moments to go over the most-exposed spots on the floor, the finger-marked table, the much-used chair and restore both their cleanliness and their luster.

You can get Hoover Polishing Wax, made by the maker of The Hoover Electric Cleaner, from Department, Furniture, Hardware and Drug Stores and Garages. You will like it.

Predict Increased Rail Dividends as Loadings Take Jump

BY W. S. COUSINS

NEW YORK, April 24.—The bull market in the oil, motor and specialty stocks was "on" in full force today as the market was encouraged by the report of increased rail loadings.

There was enough good news from the oil and motor industries to keep the market buoyant. More reports from the business enterprises for the first quarter of 1936 were expected to show a jump in rail loadings.

Steel mills are operating at a rate of 100 per cent capacity and are expected to show a jump in output.

The market had to contend with the fact that the early reports in the steel industry were not as good as expected.

But the market was buoyant and the early reports in the steel industry were not as good as expected.
